Local Brevities

Dance tonight at Wetzler's Hall.

Mrs. Susan Mann who has been indisposed this week, is well enough to sit up today.

There will be weekly dances in Wetzler's Hall every Friday night.

Mrs. Clara Tenney, of Taylor, is in Holbrook this week enjoying a visit with her daughters, Mrs. R. C. and E. J. Smith.

Frank Owens, of Heber, was among the visitors in Holbrook last Wednesday. He was at one time associated with the Holbrook A. C. M. I. and is now a ranger in the forest service, stationed at Heber.

Three hundred head of cattle were shipped out of Navajo on Thursday of last week, by Hubbell and Hubbell. They were bought by E. R. Chambers of Kansas City. Lew H. Mickey, the livestock inspector, was on duty, having gone down to Navajo the day before the shipping.

C. H. Jordan, returned on Tuesday from a legal business trip to Springerville. The attorney found the weather in that altitude not at all the kind he has been accustomed to in Holbrook.

A. Vandewart surprised his friends this morning by appearing on Holbrook's streets, however, they were all glad to see him. He will leave on one of the early morning trains for Phoenix, but will return to Holbrook sometime in April. Today he is in St. Joseph consulting with the woolgrowers of that locality.

Judge Sapp, John Flanigan and John Paulsell were out with a wagon and team on Tuesday, in response to the call for "clean up" day. They worked until noon, and the portion of the town covered, looks ever so much cleaner because they passed that way. February 24th is suggested as a general clean up day, and everybody is urged to bring teams, scrapers, etc., and assist in leveling up the streets, draining the low places, and making other improvements.

The Navajo county supervisors held a busy session at the courthouse last Monday and Tuesday, with Recorder Wallace H. Larson, and Supervisors Richards, Stiles and Hatch present. Bids for the county printing were considered and contracts awarded for the various items according to the bids submitted by the three county papers. Byron Gardner was awarded the contract for laying the pipe line to the court house. The petition for a bridge across Cottonwood wash was given favorable consideration, but a petition to the Department of the Interior to bear a part of the expense, was advised. Other important business pertaining to the county's welfare was conscientiously transacted by the supervisors.

There will be a Valentine Dance at Wetzler's Hall Friday night February 13th. Best of music.

Miss Theresa K. White, of Winslow, will arrive tonight on No. 10, to be the guest of Mrs. James Scorse over the week end.

Notice

The Good Roads committee requests that any person dumping garbage, cans, or waste of any kind in the streets will be prosecuted according to law.

Coming events cast their shadows before. A double wedding dance which is to take place at the Pastime, on Monday night, is announced by Jas. Donohue and Emmett Wallace.

FOR SALE 40 acre farm at Woodruff, 25 acres irrigated, good well, corrals, etc. Valuable for farming or for shearing, dipping and lambing. Bargain, if taken at once. Liberal terms. R. S. Teeple.

Jay Patterson is having a bath tub installed in his house, and is also making other improvements.

Jesse Tenney made an auto trip to Taylor on Monday, returning the same day.

Art Saunders went to Navajo today where he has some surveying to do.

Fred Baca of Heber, who spent several days in Holbrook on some business affairs, returned home Tuesday.

The three sessions of the Sunday school convention held last Tuesday in the church building were well attended, and the program much appreciated. The special song service under the direction of Rev. C. S. Carter, Christian minister, of Winslow, was enjoyed, as were the solos rendered by him. The several addresses were instructive and interesting. A county Sunday school association was organized resolutions adopted and officers for the year elected.

Passenger train No. 10, which passed through Holbrook at 11 p. m. Wednesday, was wrecked just after entering the Gallup yards. Spikes and fish plates had been removed causing the rail to spread and the wreck resulted. There were no casualties. Some unknown party, presumably an ex-employee of the Santa Fe company, removed the plates. A $500 reward is offered for the apprehension of the guilty party.

Methodist Episcopal Church

Preaching Monday evening at 7:30.

Sunday school Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

All are cordially invited to attend.

CARL M. ROSS, Pastor.
